

NEW YORK TO RAISE $125,000 TO HELP CHEVY CHASE FUND

Workers to Keep Up Drive For Quota Determined In Washington.

The nation-wide character of the campaign for the funds for Chevy Chase Presbyterian church as a representative, community-wide institution of the national capital was manifested yesterday when plans were announced for an organization of interested New York men to underwrite that city's share of the $125,000 required for the new church.

Representative men of New York are to be called together at a conference at one of the large clubs there, about June 2 or June 3, to meet Chairman E. D. Hathaway, of the Chevy Chase campaign committee, or his representative. The plans for the new church and its ideals of ignoring the minor differences of creeds in behalf of broader service to humanity in the very-day life of the community are to be discussed and an organization effected among the substantial element of New York's church-going people.

Gift of Mamona.

There has been no diminishing of energy of the volunteer workers in the campaign for the new church. The $25,000 share of the fund. One of the substantial contributors yesterday was Acacia Lodge 18, F. A. M., whose interest is very active in the campaign for the Chevy Chase institution. Its present master, Asa V. Burdine, and three other officers of the lodge are among the Washington workers for Chevy Chase church. One of its pastmasters is Edward F. Colladay, the chairman of the church citizens' committee. Its chaplain is Rev. Dr. Hubert Rex Johnson, pastor of the church.

Drive to Continue.

The downtown campaign will continue through this week, or until the $25,000 is raised, Chairman E. D. Hathaway, of the campaign committee, announced yesterday. The public-spirited men and women of Washington are building up the best ideals of religious life and co-operation in the national capital. He said the building operations would begin as soon as possible after the fund is raised, probably early in the summer, with a view to the new church being ready for use before the end of the year. It will be built in such a way, he said, "that the needs of the civic life of the community may be fully met all along the line."

Seek Larger Sums.

At a conference at the University club yesterday, problems of the campaign were discussed and organization perfected. Mr. Colladay, reporting for the citizens' committee $3,100, said that body was "on schedule today." A big drive will be made today for the larger contributions. Those present were: W. Warwick, Edward F. Colladay, E. D. Hathaway, T. McBride, Lee D. Latimer, Grant Lett, Conrad H. Young, R. H. Simpson, Dr. William Blum, Eugene Merritt, Dr. Hubert Rex Johnson, Louis Brehm, William Y. Brady, J. C. Biegs, Harry M. Blair, E. D. Hathaway, R. H. Sargent, C. B. Lingemfelter, Mrs. George W. Stone, Mrs. Susie R. Rhodes.

There will be a full meeting of all workers at the University club at 12:30 o'clock today.

LARGE AUDIENCE ASSURED AT SHAKESPEARE PLAY.

With a large audience assured and all the boxes taken, the second presentation of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be given tomorrow evening at the old Deas play.

Although the performance, which was to have been given Wednesday evening, had to be postponed because of the threatening weather, the matinee Wednesday afternoon was a great success. The piece was played without a hitch despite the chill winds. The natural amphitheater of the beautiful old estate, recently purchased by the Women's Educational Fund, made an ideal setting for the play, which was produced by the community service.

Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, as general director, and Dennis A. Connell, as dramatic director, have achieved with an excellent production an excellent cast which includes professional actors and a chorus of dancers who have been skillfully trained. It is to be expected that the performance tomorrow evening will be even more finished than that of Wednesday, which was heartily applauded by a critical audience.

Declares Styles Invite Mosquitoes To Free Lunches

CHICAGO, May 25.—River Forest is one of Chicago's exclusive residential suburbs. All has always been quiet and serene in the village until a few weeks ago when swarms of mosquitoes appeared on the scene.

With one accord the residents "lit" on the village administration, charging that failure to oil a tract of low ground on the Des Plaines river resulted in the plague. Here is part of what Arthur Pohlman, superintendent of streets, told a delegation of "kickers" today:

"The oiling of the swamp isn't the half of it. The mosquitoes aren't much worse this year than before, but they are receiving more encouragement."

"Now look at the styles. They're wearing 'em higher and they're rolling 'em down and over a mosquito causes the answer to that. The people who are howling the loudest are the ones who are inviting the mosquitoes to a free lunch every night."

"Pretty soon I'll be getting complaints that the bugs don't sing in the right key. You just can't please everybody."
